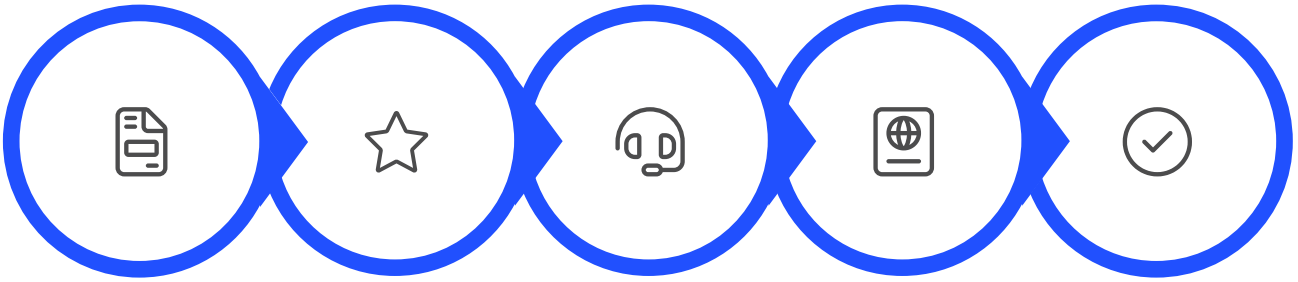
A venture isn't real until money moves. This module ensures your payment infrastructure, pricing strategy, support systems, and operational documentation are all in place and tested end-to-end.



Create Invoice | Set Pricing | Build Support | Ops Docs | E2E Test

Complete each step in sequence. The final end-to-end test validates that a customer can discover, purchase, and receive support from your venture without any manual intervention.

Design Starter, Growth, and Pro tiers. Each should have a clear name, price, feature list, and a recommended badge on the middle tier.

Ops Docs

Write SOPs for your top 3 operational processes. These should be clear enough for a new team member to follow independently.

E2E Test

Simulate a complete customer journey: discovery → inquiry → quote → payment → onboarding → support ticket. Document any gaps found.

Grading Rubric at a Glance

Each module is assessed on four consistent dimensions. Use this rubric to self-evaluate before submitting your work to the facilitator.

Completeness

Have you completed every required deliverable in the module? Partial submissions receive partial credit. Missing deliverables score zero for that component.

Quality of AI Usage

Did you use AI tools effectively and critically? Simply copying AI output without review or customization will result in lower scores. Show evidence of iteration and refinement.

Functionality

Does your deliverable actually work? Websites must be live, chatbots must respond, voice agents must answer calls, and payments must process. Non-functional submissions are penalized.

Business Viability

Does your venture make commercial sense? Facilitators assess whether your pricing, positioning, and operations reflect a real business that could attract and retain paying customers.

Pro Tip: The highest-scoring participants treat each module as a real business deliverable — not a classroom exercise. Build something you would actually launch.
